

The Short Ends

of Woolens, Cottons, Gingham, Percales, White Goods, Etc., must get out to make room for new full bolts of new goods for white sewing. So we have marked the price so low that it don't take you long to get on good terms with a nice bunch of these remnants.

Our Customers.

The one thing needful to the merchandise business, have made the year that is now closing one of the very best in the history of our business. We have put forth our best efforts to get what you want and at the price you want and you have done the rest. Without you our efforts would have been in vain. "What can we do for you." We will do this; we will try to do even better in 1906. Again thanking you for your liberal patronage we ask you to "call again."

Those Who Wait

To buy Cloaks, Suits, Skirts or Furs, don't have as large a line to select from, but the big cut in price compensates for this loss of great variety. In many cases the price is just one-half. These are just as good and stylish as any shown this season, but our unvarying rule to carry none over calls for a small price.

A DISPATCH says that the postmaster general has decided to recommend to the president the reappointment of J. C. Florence, postmaster at Stanford, Ky. This is indeed a reward of merit. Mr. Florence gives almost as much satisfaction to the patrons of his office as Capt. E. M. Drane does to those of the Frankfort office, and a higher compliment no man could ask than that. - Frankfort State Journal.

BEAZLEY.-Mr. E. H. Beazley, familiarly known to his legion of friends as "Lige," died at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon of a complication of troubles, aged 32. He is survived by a wife and sweet little five-year-old daughter, Josephine. The burial occurred in Buffalo Cemetery Wednesday afternoon after a funeral sermon at the Methodist church by Rev. P. J. Ross and prayer by Eld. L. M. Omer. The services were most appropriate and an immense crowd was present. The officers of the church acted as pall bearers and the Knights of Pythias as an escort. Mr. Beazley was a splendid young man and was fully prepared to meet his God. He was a consistent member of the Methodist church and a good, substantial citizen. He loved right and hated wrong and he was ever found battling for what he deemed would be pleasing in the sight of the Lord. A good husband and father has gone to a rich reward; may the splendid example he set be a heritage to his friends and loved ones. Mr. Beazley was a son of the late Allen Beazley. His mother, Mrs. Mildred Beazley, survives him as do three sisters and four brothers. For them, the widow and little daughter unbounded sympathy is felt and many a prayer has gone up for them in their great trouble. May He who moves mysteriously His wonders to perform help and sustain them all while their cup of sorrow overflows.

CARPENTER.-Mrs. John Steele Carpenter died at the home of her brother-in-law, Col. T. P. Hill, at 8 o'clock Friday night of apoplexy, after an illness of several weeks. She was the wife of Mr. John Steele Carpenter, a prominent citizen of the West End, and a daughter of the late Mr. Speed Peyton. Mrs. Carpenter was a gentle, kind and good woman and a consistent member of the Christian church. She is survived by her husband and two children - Mrs. Thomas B. Gallie, of Tampa, Fla., and Mr. George Alfred Carpenter, of the West End. As both of the children are married, Mr. Carpenter is left at home alone to bear the great loss he has sustained. May He who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb help him in his dark hour of trouble. The burial occurred at Hustonville at 11 o'clock Sunday morning after short services at the grave by Eld. G. W. Mills.

Doctors Could not Help Her.

"I had kidney trouble for years," writes Mrs. Raymond Conner of Shelton, Wash., "and the doctors could not help me. I tried Foley's Kidney Cure, and the very first dose gave me relief and I am now cured. I cannot say too much for Foley's Kidney Cure." It makes the diseased kidneys sound so they will eliminate the poisons from the blood. Unless they do this good health is impossible. Penny's Drug Store.
